

Dear colleagues,

Expocentre Fairgrounds traditionally hosts Russia's largest series of health care related events – the Russian Health Care Week.

The Week creates a single information and exhibition environment, which gives unique opportunities to promote the latest technologies and know-how, and search for new and effective ways to tackle problems of the health care industry. It is a great networking platform for representatives of the authorities, business, science, medical professionals and all others involved in the health care system.

The Week is a center of attention for both the authorities and professional community. It is organized by the Russian State Duma, Russian Ministry of Health Care, and Expocentre AO with support of the Russian Federation Council, Russian Ministry of Industry and Trade, Moscow City Government, Russian Academy of Medical Sciences, Russian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and WHO Office in Russia. Zdravookhraneniye 2016 runs under auspices of the Russian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and the Moscow City Government.

I have no doubt that the Russian Health Care Week 2016 will greatly contribute to development of health care and promotion of healthy life style in Russia.

Let me wish all participants every success, interesting meetings and good health!

Sergey Bednov
